

YOUR PROBLEMS
by Ann Landers

'Go to Your Family Doctor . . .'

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl who just finished her junior year in high school. If some miracle doesn't happen this summer, I'll set some kind of a record. I'll graduate from high school without having had one single, honest-to-goodness date.

I'm sure no one realizes how miserable I am because I participate in all sorts of school activities. I've held offices and seem to be in on everything. I'm everybody's friend and nobody's girl. Fellows I could go ape over ask my advice on how to get other girls interested in them. It really does hurt.

Perhaps I should tell you that I'm 5'5" and pleasingly plump. I won't tell you how much I weigh because I don't look THAT heavy, but my mother won't let me diet. She says the girls today look consumptive and she doesn't want me wrecking my health just so I can wear a size 14 comfortably.

Please give me a clue. I'm —BESIDE MYSELF

Dear Beside: If you're 5'5" and can't get into a size 14, there's a lot more of you than you need.

It's true that mature fellows don't attach a great deal of importance to a girl's size, but it's asking a lot of a high school kid to go ape over a gal who is bigger than he is. Dieting doesn't necessarily mean starving to death. Please go to your family doctor and get his advice. He'll give it to you straight—minus the mother love.

Dear Ann: I told a close friend off the other day. Now (Continued on Page 10)

Wilde-Culbertson Vows Read in Lutheran Rites

Miss Jackie Wilde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilde, 22516 S. Normandie, walked down the aisle of the Christ the King Lutheran Church, on the arm of her father, at 8 o'clock Friday evening, June 8, to exchange marriage vows with William James Culbertson. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Culbertson, 1148 Compton Blvd., Gardena.

The Rev. John Kerr, at a flower banked altar, officiated at the marriage.

The bride chose a gown of lace and tulle fashioned with a fitted bodice with a Queen Anne collar and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt was floor length. The full illusion veil cascaded from a pearl halo tiara and the bride carried a bouquet of white orchids encircled by carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Patricia Watts served as the matron of honor. She wore maize silk organza and carried a cascade of yellow carnations.

Bridesmaids were Misses Judy Carroll, Kristine Culbertson and Martha Brennan. All were gowned in mint green organza and each carried a yellow carnation bouquet.

Little Bonnie Watts was the flower girl wearing yellow taffeta.

Frank Pillard stood as best man and ushers were Fred Elliott, Terry Steel and Danny Watts.

After the wedding, the 250 guests attended a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Dorothy Dotson registered the guests.

Following a honeymoon in Monterey and San Francisco, the newlyweds are now at

Konczal-Gates Nuptials Read in Methodist Rites

Garvanza Methodist Church in Los Angeles was the setting for the marriage of Miss Barbara Allegra Konczal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Konczal, Los Angeles, and Andrew James Gates, 5107 Halison St., Torrance.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of white taffeta and rose point lace made by her mother. It was detailed with a V neckline and a full skirt attached to the bodice in a deep V at both back and front. A pearl and net halo held her bouffant veil and she carried white roses, valley lilies and orchids.

Mrs. Delores Konczal was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Sylvia England and Eldeen Moore. All attendants wore lavender brocade sheaths and carried lavender tulips and valley lilies. LeRoy Freed stood as best man and ushers were James Bassett and Thomas Konczal.

Clare Bredow was the organist and Hugh Conti, soloist. The Rev. R. B. Wylie and Rev. N. N. Baird officiated at the marriage ceremony.

A reception was held at the church and the newlyweds spent a honeymoon at Yosemite. They are now at home at 916 S. Gramercy Dr., Los Angeles.

The bride was graduated from a Tucson, Ariz., high school and is employed with The Colwell Co. in Los Angeles.

Her husband was graduated from a St. Joseph, Mo., high school, El Camino college in Torrance and attended Hardin Simmons University in Texas. He is employed at the Magnavox Research Laboratories in Torrance.
